A) Rectangular Rapid Flashing Beacons – Question Received

There is a cost difference between the brands of Carmanah and Tapco for RRFB’s and there is no information in drawings and specifications as to what equipment is to be installed.

Can the engineer review the attached information for Carmanah RRFB’s we have installed on another project and please specify which manufacturer and what materials the Bidders are expected to purchase and install?

Answer: Rectangular Rapid Flashing Beacons need to be MUTCD compliant. Any manufacturer that can meet this requirement may be used.
