Your Comment

The Tahoe-Pyramid Trail sometimes receives very disconcerted emails from visitors to our area, who had hoped to ride bikes along the Truckee River (in some cases their main reason for visiting) but were so discomforted by the homeless presence they cut short their outing and will not return.

Your Comment	We come up to Reno several times a year to visit family and for recreation including using the Truckee River through town. Excluding the recent impact of COVID, we stay in local hotels, eat in restaurants, partake in entertainment, etc. I was saddened to see the recent pictures and video of the amount of garbage and homeless camps along the river. This area should be a source of pride for your community - not an eye sore. When it looks worse than what I've seen recently in San Francisco, I think you have a major problem. Yes - the solutions may be difficult but they should still be attempted. I would hate for your river park gem to be cut from our (and others) visits and the effect it will have to the surrounding business area. Please use resources to try to clean up the area and make it a safe and sanitary place where locals and visitors want to continue to visit.

Hello, my name is Charles Albright from the powder. Obviously very involved in what's going on with the river. I didn't get this message until the opportunity to have input till well after 4 o'clock this evening, but I still would like to if at all possible to be able to say something, so you need to you can do to solve the homeless issue along the river and get it back to where the public and enjoy it and it's not polluted in the trash is gone and the homeless situation is controlled would be greatly beneficial to the river and to our community and see it's in saying that this is happening and Damage that is doing to our environment. So that's about it and looking out the rest of my 3 minutes back. I just wanted to speak. I'm going to try send an email. Anyways, I wish I had known about this sooner. I could have gotten the word out more, but I can even start sending emails to will after 5. Thank you. Take care. Goodbye.

i did not receive information about your meeting tomorrow till well after 5. I have tried to get the message out to concerned folks but the 4 pm deadline will destroy public input. My comment is ANYTHING our community can do to solve this plague on our river will help. The camps, trash, people, pollution, damage to the river corridor, shoreline trees and brush is being destroyed. Our levees are being effected. Anyways you all know what is going on. ANYTHING we can do to solve the problem must be done as soon as possible.

Your Comment	I commend the City Council for addressing the issue of Homelessness in the Truckee Meadows! As a primary care physician, I know well the challenges facing many of our homeless citizens as well as the impact this issue has on many others in the community. And as someone who likes to ride my bike to along the river trail (to the hospitals or just for an outing) and who loves to kayak and SUP the river, I also see the impact the homeless camps have on our lovely river corridor. I fully support your efforts to create a more supportive environment for the homeless and to help protect this fragile resource.

Hi, this is Dr. Trails Rams cut off right at 2800 Elsie Irene Lane off of Dickerson. And I wanted to comment. I'm very much in favor of moving homeless camping. I think that would benefit greatly the businesses in the area, and it would ultimately be a move in the direction of solving this problem. If you have any questions, please call me at 408-691-6476.

Subject: Truckee River

Hello Rick

Just want to voice my concern re the homeless who are muddying (pun intended) up our river all along it's length through town. I'm sure you're aware and encourage you to send my voice to those who can do something about the issue. Urinating, defecating, leaving horrendous amounts of garbage and trash, with seemingly no concern for our environment. I kayak and bike all along the Truckee, including the whitewater park, so I see firsthand the refuse and total disregard for those who want to enjoy what we have here.

This Spring I encourage the city to let these people know that on a given/certain day those who are still occupying a lot along the river (those who have overwintered) that they will need to be gone by a given day (perhaps 3-5 days) and if they are not gone all of their stuff will be removed by city personnel and they will not be allowed to return. And let those who didn't overwinter know that they are not welcome to take up residence. Get the word out at the end of winter, or sooner, that they have until ____ (given date) to move out and will not be allowed to camp/live/eliminate/deposit trash beginning on that day, and stick to it.

I understand Sparks used to have a homeless issue along the river but no longer. It can be done, just takes some backbone.

Sincerely,

Dr. Rick Sproule

My Public comment on Homeless Issues & GST Tax:

1. Do Something please!
 2. The CHAB is non-productive, meeting only monthly for a couple hours with no state or federal members and needed input often not in attendance. They have no dedicated staff and no members cannot make any commitments on behalf of their council, commission. Their tract record of accomplishment is void.
 3. Support BuiltForZero
 4. Support moving all services from Record St and selling the property and moving services to (1) Governor's Bowl (2) Galletti Way (3) Consider a remote long-term rehabilitation facility away from temptations of drugs and alcohol
 5. Services must support SafeCamp with individual tents and car camping that promote the five S's: Safe, Secure, Sanitary, Sanctioned, Strict rules
 6. Enforcement of laws such as no river camping must be enforced.
 7. Support Relocation Programs (i.e. with family or treatment)
 8. GST Tax: I have an idea that is a win-win that the public could support.
- *If the County opts (my idea better) to raise the (GST) annual car registration tax any tax must (1) Sunset (2) have actual oversight such as an independent board (put me on it!) or at least delegate to the CHAB (3) Have a very specific purpose of relocating and closing Record St to Galletti and Governor's Bowl and other remote location as may be determined.

9. Provide needed help to the mentally ill by enforcing NRS 433A Mental Health Laws.

10. Instead of creating more affordable housing consider using portions of the GST tax for transportation, specifically light rail to Carson, Fernley and eventually other locations. It's time!

GST Tax: 2018 report estimates revenue of about $13 to $16 million yearly. How much do you really need? That report indicates a $40,000 car now pays $480 a year- that's a lot- and it would increase by $120 per car per year. Remember many retirees live in motorhomes valued at $150,000 and their burden would be intense. Could a GST "not to exceed" ($100) be imposed? Remember as with WC1, taxpayers may vote with their wallet and delay purchases or find addresses in tax friendly locations.

Remember too that Washoe has the highest gas tax about 40+ cents over Carson and Fernley (Carson $2.14 on 11-10-20 vs $2.59 Reno). Since 2011 that gas tax has gone up an average of over 2 cents every July. Then Washoe has the highest sales tax 8.265%.

Now you want more! That said a GST compromise may be the best we can do with sunset & oversight.

Reno Gazette-Journal - Thursday, November 12, 2020

We have a plan to solve homelessness in Washoe County | Mike Kazmierski

Mike Kazmierski

This opinion column was submitted by Mike Kazmierski, president and CEO of the Economic Development Authority of Western Nevada.

As the holidays approach, along with the cold weather and snow, I can't help but worry about the more than 1,000 men (often veterans), women and children in our community that are homeless. I know I am not the only one that frets over this growing challenge. As the number of homeless camps increases, I often am asked about this issue by prospects considering our community and other anxious citizens. After many years of working with our local governments, businesses and other concerned citizens, I believe that we finally have a plan. Together, we can solve this difficult problem that most other communities have accepted as unsolvable.

Zero homelessness is possible: A collaborative methodology was first pioneered in the health care sector to combat the spread of deadly infections. The only program that has proven to reduce or eliminate homelessness is a similar collaborative methodology. According to David Bornstein in The New York Times, "nine communities in the United States have reached a rigorous standard known as 'functional zero' for chronic homelessness – a standard that indicates homelessness is rare" ("A growing drive to get homelessness to zero," June 5, 2018).

Our plan, phase one: Prevention, coordination, and planning. There are things we already are doing to prevent long-term homelessness. A great example is the relocation and expansion of the Eddy House, with a new focus on training homeless youth to help them acquire the skills they need to get a job to escape a life of chronic homelessness. As for planning, over the past year, our local governments established the Community Homelessness Advisory Board, which meets regularly to work collaboratively to develop solutions. The CHAB commissioned a study by OrgCode Consulting, implemented some of the report's recommendations, and recently joined Built for Zero. This national program helps communities achieve the goal of "zero functional homeless."

More:Reno-Sparks, Washoe tackle homelessness issue: 'What's been done before isn't working'

Phase two: Provide facilities that enable the separation of men and women/children. The Record Street campus is overcrowded and unsafe. With the state's help, our local governments acquired the former Northern Nevada Adult Mental Health Services campus. The campus was recently renovated and now provides homeless women and children wrap-around services in a safe environment as they engage in programs that move them on a path to self-sufficiency.

Phase three: Acquire land near downtown and relocate the Record Street shelter. Setting up a safe and drug-free campus that provides a place for all citizens experiencing homelessness requires a larger area. There are ongoing plans to set up a campus that offers tents, accommodates pets and even campers in a secure environment where shelter, feeding, security and wrap-around services are readily available.

Phase four: Address the funding needed to execute the plan. While there is some funding available to address our homelessness needs, the growing number of camps and working homeless, some as a result of pandemic related unemployment, is a clear indication that we must do more. While emergency shelter and food are vital, we need adequately funded wrap-around services and programs to help the homeless address and cope with some of the root causes of chronic homelessness, like drug and alcohol addiction.

Phase five: Aggressive enforcement and maintenance of the effort. Once the resources are in place, we must redirect our homeless to the resources and facilities to survive first, and eventually thrive. Getting more ambassadors and adding river rangers will help us identify and address new homeless. By avoiding the costs associated with cleaning up homeless encampments, countless emergency room incidents and the diversion of our policing efforts, we will save resources that can address other community needs.

Phase six: Increase affordable housing. We continue to fall short of our growing housing needs, causing the cost of housing to go up due to supply and demand. These rising prices make it more difficult, if not impossible, for many people to find a place to live. That is why we must make every effort to encourage and support more housing construction, especially affordable housing.

So, we finally have a plan! Our local governments are more committed to addressing this challenge now than ever before. However, they need our help as we move from "accepting" or "managing" homelessness to "believing" we can end it. It will take commitment and support by the entire community, community leaders, care providers, businesses and citizens. But what better gift can we give to each other and our kids and grandkids than to be the next community to achieve "zero functional homeless"? We can do this!

are in but the ones that abuse our system makes it unpleasant and scary to enjoy our Truckee River and surrounding areas. Your Comment	My family enjoys recreation along the Truckee River but we avoid the downtown area and that downstream into sparks primarily due to trash and a large concentration of homeless that cause us to question the safety of tapping young children to these areas. It was a privilege and an education to float the river with Grant from the Karma Box project, but i still believe short needs to be spent to clean the river and address the many issues both faced by and contributed to from the high concentration of homeless communities here. Thank you

Hi Rick,

I regularly kayak and bike along the Truckee River in Reno with my 5 year old, Lucas. I feel like I'm a bad parent for letting him see all that. I tell him; "If you don't study, you'll end up living on the river like those guys". It's unfortunate that such an incredible asset is being trashed. Apparently, people are coming from out of the area to live there. It would be great if there was a low-cost alternative such as a public campground, with facilities, and the river was off limits to camping.

Thanks,

Re: November 18 Concurrent Meeting Agenda Item 11: Support of Nevada Cares Campus

Dear Councilmembers and Commissioners:

This letter is written in support of Agenda Item 11 on the November 18, 2020 concurrent meeting agenda and the proposal to purchase and develop a regional homeless shelter in the Governor's Bowl area. Homelessness continues to be a significant problem in Washoe County, impacting the community in many ways.

The University applauds Reno, Sparks and Washoe County for working together to identify and create this opportunity to develop a regional facility for homeless sheltering, public meals services, transitional housing and other wrap services at the new Nevada Cares Campus. The University believes centralizing these services in the location proposed will not only provide critical services to this at-risk population but will enhance and support the University's campus expansion projects and commitment to campus safety. Seamlessly connecting the University to downtown, the Truckee River, and the great amenities and culture in the Arts District, Fourth Street and MidTown, provides a campus and community experience unlike any other.

We urge Reno, Sparks and Washoe County to approve this item and their development of the Nevada Cares Campus and consolidation of the regional homeless services at the Governor's Bowl site.

Sincere regards,

Brian Sandoval

Your Comment	I am so glad that the three governing bodies of Reno, Sparks and Washoe County are working together to solve the homelessness crisis in our area. I want to encourage you to do the same with policing issues. Please cooperate and collaborate on ways to implement the recommendations in the Guinn report. Collaborate on anti-racism trainings, diversifying recruitment, working with social services on mental health issues, increase data collection (for example, demographics on stopping people) - all with the goal of removing bias/racism and making minorities feel safe, not targeted etc. Thanks!
