PLASMA MEDICINES IMPROVE LIVES

Plasma is the clear, liquid portion of blood containing proteins and antibodies. Grifols extracts these proteins and manufactures them into medicines to treat rare, chronic and life-threatening conditions in multiple therapeutic areas including: pulmonology, hematology, immunology, and neurology. Most patients require regular and life-long treatment with these medicines.

GRIFOLS COMMITMENT TO QUALITY AND SAFETY

Plasma donation is performed in a highly controlled, sterile environment by professionally trained medical staff to help ensure the health and well being of donors as well as the safety and quality of their donated plasma. Donors at all our plasma donor centers are held to stringent quality and safety criteria that include donor screening and testing requirements set by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA).

GRIFOLS AN EMPLOYER OF CHOICE

Grifols takes pride in being an "employer of choice" in the communities in which we operate. All our plasma donor centers are run like small community based businesses. For nearly a decade Grifols has served as a model employer by providing robust employee development and training. We are a growing company offering its employees increasing opportunities for career advancement.

COMMUNITY PARTNERS

Grifols is committed to being a good neighbor and strong community partner. Our plasma donor centers pride themselves in giving back to the local community through charitable contributions, volunteer events and other outreach activities. In 2015, Grifols plasma donor centers supported a variety of community organizations such as local food banks, Salvation Army locations, schools, and United Service Organizations (USOs).
